The historical sites of the Susquehanna Conference are monitored by the Historical Sites Committee of the conference’s Commission on Archives and History. The chairman of the that committee, and the person to contact regarding historical sites is Rev. Rodney Miller at rmiller@susumc.org.

Because this area played such an important role in the development of our predecessor denominations – the Evangelical Association, the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the United Brethren Church – the United Methodist Church has designated eight Pennsylvania sites as Heritage Landmarks of the denomination. Those sites, along with the current (2016-2020) information from the website of the General Commission on Archives and History, are listed on the following page.

Most of these sites welcome visits from families, confirmation classes and other interested persons. For additional information on these sites, and other Heritage Landmarks of the denomination, you may contact the Susquehanna Conference archives at loyer@lycoming.edu.
